Fall Lecture Series at St. Tikhon's Seminary
Tuesdays, October 10-31, 2017

"BACK TO BASICS"

MARSHALL GOODGE
October 10

Marshall Goodge — "The Panagia: Our Mother and our Model"
Marshall Goodge (STOTS 2017) is serving as the Assistant to the Dean upon graduation from seminary with his M.Div. Degree. Marshall received honors in Theology for his Thesis: "O Virgin Pure": The Roman Catholic Doctrine of the Immaculate Conception and the Sinlessness of the Virgin Mary, East and West."

ARCHBISHOP MICHAEL
October 17

Archbishop Michael, Ph.D. — "What is the Bible? An Orthodox Understanding"
His Eminence is the Archbishop of the Diocese of New York and New Jersey, and Rector of St. Tikhon's Seminary. He is Professor of New Testament and Pastoral Theology and Department Chair of Scripture at the seminary, and holds a Ph.D. Degree from Duquesne University.

PROTOPRESBYTER GEORGE ALEXSON
October 24

Protopresbyter George Alexson — "Perfecting the Shepherd"
Fr. George (STOTS 1969) has been a priest in the Greek Orthodox Archdiocese for forty-eight years. He retired in 2010 from the Annunciation Cathedral, Atlanta, GA. Upon returning to Northern Virginia, he accepted an invitation to assist in developing Holy Apostles Greek Orthodox Church, in Loudon County.

DR. JESSICA SUCHY-PILALIS
October 31

Jessica Suchy-Pilalis, Ph.D. — "Basics of Liturgical Music"
Dr. Jessica teaches at the Crane School of Music, Potsdam University, Potsdam, NY. She is currently on sabbatical and has recently returned from Greece. She is also an accomplished harpist in addition to her work in liturgical music.

Public welcome. RSVP to info@stots.edu